MOTION FOR CONSOLIDATION OF APPEALS AND FOR A NEW BRIEFING SCHEDULE

Appellants Donald J. Trump, Alina Habba, Michael T. Madaio, Habba Madaio & Associates, Peter Ticktin, Jamie Alan Sasson, and The Ticktin Law Group, by and through counsel, hereby move this Court to consolidate their respective appeals pursuant to Fed. R. App. P. 3(b), and to set a new briefing schedule to allow for Appellants to fully brief the arguments of a consolidated appeal. The clerk of this Court may consolidate these appeals pursuant to 11th Cir. R. 27-1(c)(4). In turn, a new briefing schedule is required for the consolidated appeal. Further, pursuant to 11th Cir. R. 31-1(b), when a motion to consolidate is pending, prior to the briefing due date of one of the appeals at issue, then briefing is due 40 days after the resolution of the motion. Thus, regardless of the Court's ruling on this motion, a new briefing schedule is needed.

On October 11, 2022, Appellant Donald J. Trump filed his notice of appeal of the District Court's order granting Appellee's motion to dismiss, now docketed at 22-13410. Subsequently, on December 9, 2022, Appellants Alina Habba, Michael T. Madaio, Habba Madaio & Associates, Peter Ticktin, Jamie Alan Sasson, and The Ticktin Law Group filed their notice of appeal of the District Court's order granting sanctions against them, now docketed at 22-14099. This motion is made on the grounds that the questions involved in both appeals are so related as to make consolidation of the appeals advisable and that such consolidation will expedite the consideration of the appeals while also conserving judicial and legal resources.

The underlying issues in both appeals center on the viability of the legal claims in President Trump's Amended Complaint. In ordering sanctions, prompting the appeal docketed at 22-14099, the District Court held that sanctions were appropriate because the claims in President Trump's Amended Complaint had no reasonable chance of success, and there was not a reasonable argument to change existing law. Exhibit B at 9. The District Court then went on to say that each claim was frivolous and well-settled. Id. at 14. Similarly, if President Trump's appeal of the District Court's order granting the motion to dismiss, docketed at 22-13410, is overturned, then this will show that the claims were not frivolous, and sanctions were not warranted. See generally Exhibit A. Judicial economy would be best served by hearing this issue just once, as opposed to in multiple appeals, as the outcome of one issue that ultimately hinges on the outcome of the other.

The remaining issue in the sanctions appeal docketed at 22-14099 is alleged misstatements in the Amended Complaint. These legal and factual issues the sanctions order overlap the underlying issues decided in the dismissal order. To the extent the alleged errors are important to the legal outcome, they should be addressed contemporaneously with the legal issues in President Trump's appeal.

This motion is in the best interest of judicial economy and will expedite the consideration of both appeals. Accordingly, Appellants Donald J. Trump, Alina Habba, Michael T. Madaio, Habba Madaio & Associates, Peter Ticktin, Jamie Alan Sasson, and The Ticktin Law Group respectfully request that this Court grant their motion to consolidate the instant appeals. Appellants further request that this Court modify the current briefing schedule so that Appellants may properly brief the newly consolidated appeal and have sufficient time to file their briefs pending the resolution of this motion, according to 11th Cir. R. 31-1. Appellants conferred with Appellees' counsel regarding the relief sought in this motion. Mr. Dolan's counsel consent to the relief sought in this motion. No other parties' counsel has yet responded to the request to log an objection.
